December 1st Morning Storm Update

[Duluth, MN] The City of Duluth is continuing closed access to Park Point for non-residents. The Duluth Police Department is checking identification before the Aerial Lift Bridge.

Water has subsided on South Lake Avenue, Morse and Buchanan Street, and a portion of Canal Park Drive. Street closures on Morse, Buchanan, and end portion of Canal Park Drive will remain in effect until later today.

The National Weather Service has issued a blizzard warning for Duluth until later this morning, for this reason the City of Duluth is also continuing the no travel advisory. Plows have been out since 2:00 a.m. and will remain out plowing main roads and begin working on residential areas. Please stay home and shelter in place until further notice.

The National Weather Service is predicting another one to three inches of snow to fall in Duluth until noon when the storm begins to move out. As of 6:00 a.m. the Weather Service has measured 19 inches of snow that has fallen. The wind is slowly switching to the North, and will start to decrease in strength later this morning/ early afternoon.

The City will provide another update after noon today.
